

Sher Singh Baghel

Assistant Professor

Bachelor of Architecture, 2005- 2010
Government College of Architecture, Lucknow

Masters in Architecture (Medical Architecture), 2014
Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi

Sher Singh Baghel graduated as an Architect from Government College of Architecture, Uttar Pradesh Technical University, India. He did his Masters in Architecture in Medical Architecture from Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi.

He has been involved as Consultant Architect with The Braj Foundation (A Mathura based NGO) in various architectural projects such as Krishna Janmbhomi Street Redevelopment, Vrindavan Parikrama Marg and restoration of various Kunds, etc.

At GCAD, he has taught subjects like Architectural Design, Building Construction, Materials, Tall building and structure, Building services at B.Arch. programme. He has also taught Interior Design, Estimating, costing and specification at BID (Interior Design) programme at Gateway Design School. He is also a part of Extra Mural Activities in GCAD as House Master where he has motivated and guide students to improve the skills.

Area of Interest

Conservation of Heritage Architecture, Historic Water Systems, Rural Development,