

Geeta Saha
Assistant Professor

Bachelor of Architecture, 2017
Dr APJ Abdul Kalam Technical University

Masters in Architecture, 2019
Jamia Milia Islamia, New Delhi

Architect Geeta Saha is an Assistant Professor at Gateway college of Architecture, Sonipat Haryana. She has extensive experience leading research projects in design practice with a focus on the impact of design on human habitat and perception.

She's committed to achieving the highest level of design and Unending desire to conquer new height make her even mores hardworking and better analyst of situations. Perception is a word that she believe draws a fine line between problem and solution.

She believes that successful learning happens when students understand the application of their knowledge which acquired through personal experience, allowing the learner not only to apply theoretical content and practical skills in a given context, but also to act innovatively and creatively.

Area of Expertise
Architecture Pedagogy, Interior Architecture,