

Kajal Bhawra
Assistant Professor

Bachelor of Architecture, 2008- 2013
RIMT College of Architecture, Mandi Gobindgarh , Punjab

Masters in Architecture (SPSAD), 2017
Maharishi Dayanand University, Rohtak, Haryana

Born and brought up in Punjab, India, Kajal Bhawra graduated as an Architect from RIMT College of Architecture, Punjab Technical University, Jalandhar, Punjab India. She did her Masters in Architecture from SPSAD, Maharishi Dayanand University, Rohtak, Haryana.

Before getting associated with Gateway College of Architecture & Design, She worked as an Interior designer and project manager for some of the prominent practices in Dehradun. Kajal has been associated with the Gateway family since 2014 at which time she had been with us for more than a year before moving on to pursue for masters. She is a lifetime member with INTACH and worked with Sonipat Chapter. She motivates to develop learning interests and critical thinking to establish a learner-centered environment in the classroom as well as in the studio. Her activities and class discussions encourage students to make connections between architectural study and other disciplines.

Area of Expertise
Architectural Design

Interior Design

Landscape