

Prof. Manoj Mathur

Professor

Prof. Manoj Mathur is an architect who has been on the permanent faculty of the School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi where he retired as Dean, Planning and Development. Prior to that he had headed the departments of Architecture, Industrial Design and Urban Design respectively at various times.

He is also one of the founders of the firm Mathur & Kapre Associates, an architectural practice based out of Delhi which has a comprehensive portfolio of projects all over India mainly comprising Housing, Healthcare, Educational campuses, Industrial and Commercial complexes and Urban infrastructure. Notable prize-winning projects are the AIIMS Flyover in New Delhi, Redevelopment of the Saibaba Temple campus in Shirdi and the Footwear Design and Development (FDDI) in Noida, He has an abiding interest in Cinema have done art direction for a feature film and pioneered the wave of multiplexes in India with the PVR Anupam at New Delhi.

He is the erstwhile Honorary Joint Secretary of the Indian Institute of Architects Northern Chapter which he continues to serve as Member, Executive Council. He is also a regular speaker in Faculty Development Programs of the Council of Architecture.