National Online Faculty Development Program

Towards an Impact Driven Architectural Curriculum

3rd July to 7th July 2023 | Time: 2:30 PM - 5:50 PM

Last Date of Registration: 30th June 2023

PREAMBLE

In the present times, it is crucial to ensure development of innovative educational technology along with being aware of current trends in architectural practice. Architectural institutions worldwide are increasingly recognizing the importance of preparing students for the real-world challenges. To be able to achieve this objective, understanding and awareness of various key components are necessary for all faculty members. These include the integration of traditional knowledge systems with modern technological systems and understanding them through some good prototype examples. Sustainable approach to handling all natural resources available to us, designing buildings accordingly and conservation of our built heritage awareness must be an intrinsic part of the curriculum. Understanding of Academic coordination and monitoring systems and devising a curriculum which is impact driven is important and all teachers should understand the NEP policy and the corresponding transformations required in architectural studies.

The 5-day FDP on "Towards an Impact Driven Architectural Curriculum" has been designed to equip faculty members with the necessary training and tools to develop a unique curriculum aligned with real-world demands. The program aims to cover various aspects, such as effective time management techniques, research methodologies, academic coordination strategies, and traditional knowledge systems' integration with modern technological systems. Additionally, water architecture and climate responsiveness through case examples of building(s), designed by practitioners will give faculty an understanding of how to lead students towards the application of the theoretical learnings in designing buildings.

KEY FOCUS AREA

- Impactful curriculum development.
- Time management for meaningful research
- Latest architectural trends
- Academic coordination strategies
- Sustainable measures
- Holistic teaching learning approach

KEY TAKEAWAYS FOR PARTICIPANTS
