COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE & DESIGN

Delhi-NCR, Sonipat

ISO 9001:2015 & ISO 14001:2015 Certified

Approved by COA, New Delhi &
Affiliated to DCRUST, Murthal

Gateway College of Architecture and Design (GCAD)

The Gateway College of Architecture and Design was sculpted through the noble leadership of Professor Anil Kumar who laid the grounds for its development into an institution of its own. He has been the Dean at Deenbandhu Chotu Ram University of Science and Technology, Murthal who has also been teaching architecture here since 1975. This grand school of architecture was started with the firm intent of creating a future model school using contemporary technology as the modern teaching aid for architectural enthusiasts.

There remains a strong desire of providing the right exposure to the young architectural aspirants, aspiring to lead a creative life, design and innovate for the future and gain a platform that combines idealism and pragmatism. The college is also being guided by Sh. Rakesh Aggarwal who himself is a renowned Architect. He has been associated with architectural education and believes in using contemporary teaching methods for effective education

Started in 2008, Gateway College of Architecture and Design was themed to be a technical gurukul. A gurukul where the student-teacher connection and bond is a given, following the Indian age-old tradition. This was done with the belief that the learning of architecture needs a conducive environment where intense discussions on the various facets of architecture are happening constantly.

The college also encourages the holistic development of students by conducting various activities such as inter-house competitions, fine arts, literary arts, performing arts, conducting seminars and workshops. The college also encourages the inculcation of human values to become good citizens

The college holds an annual fest for bringing together the first year students of the neighbouring colleges for interaction and bonding. There are also annual educational trips to different parts of the country accompanied by the faculty.

GCAD has also hosted National Level convention NASA in 2013 with 3000+ National & International Architecture Students.

Vision

Nurturing a student-centred environment that fosters personal development and professional excellence.

Mission

To be a forefront institution in creating leaders, entrepreneurs & innovators with academic excellence and creativity respecting the local socio-cultural evolving environment to address national and global needs in the immediate and long term perspective.

Facilities

We are functioning from a state of the art building that has been designed exclusively for teaching architecture through the digital mode. The campus has full boarding and Lodging facilities for both the students and the faculty. The college has besides the digital and manual studios, a very well stocked library, membership of over 24 magazines and print journals, access to e-journals; workshops for model making, carpentry, material testing, climatology lab, material museum, a small auditorium, an open-air theatre in the college atrium and a cafeteria.

Apart from classroom teaching, site studies, prototypes studies, field trips and market surveys are organized and undertaken regularly to expose the student to the world beyond the class rooms and studios. This helps them gain an insight into the new technological breakthroughs and contemporary advancements in design in the world outside.

National/International educational trips are conducted frequently for holistic development of students.

Student's Experience

“This college has given me so much, not just in academics, but also in other forms. This college is something beyond the ordinary. The practices that we follow in this college is something we won't find in any ordinary college. This is a college which stands apart on its own because of the way it teaches. It doesn't teach us by mere textbooks but it teaches us by practice. Apart from academics, this college has a lot of extra-curricular activities happening around which help us in getting a real exposure of the field we will be joining shortly. Besides that, we have the exciting educational tours to which each student look forward to so as to learn about the next place we will be going to and about its architectural facts. Welcome to the world of Architecture and Design.”

Thanks Gateway

The atmosphere here is always lively and you can have interactive sessions with the faculty, with Anil Sir our Director, with peers, with our seniors.
